    CV-10-2034: Globefill Incorporated versus Elements

    Spirits, Incorporated, et al.
8
                Counsel, please state your appearance.
9
                MR. BERG: Good morning, Your Honor.
10
                THE COURT: Good morning.
11
                MR. BERG: David Berg for Globefill.
12
                I'm here with my partners Jenny Kim, Mike 13 Fay, our colleagues Zenobia Bivens, Vickie Mery, and our local counsel and friend Mr. Hernan Vera. I almost 14 15 forgot. Thank you.
16
                THE COURT: Good morning to all.
                MR. HUMMEL: He has a football team.

1
                So there is a note from the jury. It is 2
    Note No. 2.
                If you remember, Note No. 1 was the note 3 advising us of the foreperson and the hours that the 4 jury expected to be working today.
5
                So this is Note 2, and it says the jury has 6
    reached a unanimous verdict. And so we just -- I just wanted to advise counsel that we have the note.
8
                The clerk will bring the jury in. They will 9 10 be seated in the jury box. I'll take a look at the 11 verdict. And if I feel that it's in the form that it 12 should be, in other words, they have unanimously 13 answered Question No. 1 and Question No. 2, if it's necessary for them to answer that, then the verdict will 14 15
    be read.
16
                If either side wishes to have the jury polled, I will ask you that question. We'll poll them 17 18 if you wish. And if everything is in order, then the 19
    Court would thank and excuse the jury.
20 Yesterday, I did raise with the parties if 21 there is another phase or additional evidence to be 22 presented when you wanted to do that.
23
                I'm available to do it today. I'm also 24 available tomorrow. And I was interested in a time 25 estimate. So I don't know if you had time to discuss
```

```
1 that.
2
                MR. BERG: Your Honor, I think I speak for 3 both sides. We would like to submit papers instead of an evidentiary hearing. The facts are pretty -- we 4 believe are pretty cut and dry.
5
                Mr. Fay, do you agree with that?
6
7
                MR. FAY: Yes, Your Honor. I spoke with 8 counsel today, and I think maybe the best way to do it would be to submit some argument with supporting 9 10 exhibits, and then maybe there will be a need for an evidentiary hearing. But I think that the principal 11 12 issues between the parties are legal.
13
                THE COURT: All right. If that's agreeable, then after the jury is excused, we can then talk about 14 15
    when to expect the briefs.
16
                But does counsel also agree?
17
                MR. HUMMEL: It's agreeable to Elements, 18
    Your Honor.
19
                THE COURT: Okay. And then is Brandi 20 involved in this issue as well?
21
                MR. MILLER: I don't believe so, Your Honor.
22
    But --
23
                THE COURT: What do the plaintiffs think?
24
    Or have you not --
                MR. FAY: Well, there's two factual issues,

Your Honor. One would be, you know, the facts relating to any request for a disgorgement and the other would be attorney fees.
            THE COURT: Okay.
           MR. FAY: So I think the facts related to disgorgement, that's documentation we received from Elements. And attorney fees is obviously something that we have to provide them. And we discussed the possibility we might even agree on a number and then disagree on the law.
            THE COURT: Okay. Well, that's acceptable to me. And then after I receive the briefs, then if I felt that an evidentiary hearing was needed or if either of you felt it was needed, then the Court could schedule
it.
           But I'm not planning to do that today or tomorrow, and so that's why I raised the question.
           All right. We're ready to have the clerk escort the jury in, please.
            And so while the clerk is doing that, I just want to compliment counsel in the case. I thought that both sides did an excellent job representing the clients that you represent.
            Sometimes clients don't have the opportunity to see the representation. They don't always understand the issues. But I just wanted to congratulate for you a 2 job well done.
```

 3
                MR. BERG: Thank you, Your Honor.
                MR. HUMMEL: Thank you, Your Honor.
 4
                          Thank you, Your Honor.
5
                MS. KIM:
                 (THE JURORS ENTER THE COURTROOM.)
 6
7
                THE COURT: The record should reflect that 8 we do have our eight deliberating jurors seated in the courtroom.
9 10
                I have a Jury Note No. 2. It indicates the 11 jury has reached a unanimous verdict.
12
                So the portable mic should be with the 13 foreperson. And I will ask him to state his name for the record and then advise the Court if it is true that 14 15
    the jury has reached a unanimous verdict.
16
                So where is that portable mike?
17
                JURY FOREPERSON: Thanks very much.
18
                THE COURT: Would you state your name for 19
    the record, please.
20
                JURY FOREPERSON: Yeah, I'm Mathew Humphry.
21
                THE COURT: And you are the foreperson of 22
    the jury?
23 JURY FOREPERSON: Yes, Your Honor.
24
                THE COURT: And is it correct that the jury has reached a unanimous verdict?
2.5
```

```
1 JURY FOREPERSON: Yes.
2
                 THE COURT: So if you will give the verdict form to the bailiff, he'll give it to the clerk and I 3 will review it.
4
 5
                 JURY FOREPERSON: Okay.
                 THE COURT: The clerk will read the verdict.
 6
7
                 THE CLERK: United States District Court,
    Central District of California.

                Globefill Incorporated, plaintiff versus 10 Elements Spirits, Incorporated, and Kim Brandi defendants. Case No. 10-2034-CBM-PLA.
11 Court's Verdict Form.
12
13
                We the jury unanimously find as follows:
                Number 1, do you find the defendants used a 14 15 trade dress in a manner that is likely to cause 16 confusion among ordinary consumers as to the sources, 17 sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of the parties' 18 qoods?
                 See Court Instruction No. 19.
19 20
                As to defendant Elements Spirits, 21
    Incorporated, the answer is yes.
22
                As to defendant Kim Brandi, the answer is 23
    yes.
24
                 If you answered yes to Question 1, proceed 2.5
    to Question 2.

```
Question 2, do you find the defendants used 1 2
    the trade dress wilfully or intentionally?
                See Court Instruction No. 21.
3
 4
                As to defendant Elements Spirits,
5
    Incorporated the answer is yes.
6
                As to defendant Kim Brandi, the answer is 7
    yes.
8
                Dated March 29, 2017.
                Signed by the foreperson of the jury.
9
                THE COURT: Either side wish to have the 10 11 jury polled?
12
                MR. HUMMEL: Yes, Your Honor.
                THE COURT: If the clerk -- 13
                MR. BERG: We do not, Your Honor.
14
15
                THE COURT: All right. If the clerk will 16 begin.
                MR. BERG: We defer to counsel.
17
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 1, is the verdict as 18 19 presented and read your verdict?
20
                JUROR NO. 1: Yes.
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 2, is the verdict as 21 22 presented and read your verdict?
23
                JUROR NO. 2: Yes.
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 3, is the verdict as 24 presented and read your verdict?
25
```

```
JUROR NO. 3: Yes.
1
2
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 4, is the verdict as presented and read your verdict?
3
                JUROR NO. 4: Yes.
 4
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 5, is the verdict as 5 6 presented and read your verdict?
7
                JUROR NO. 5: Yes.
8
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 6, is the verdict as presented and read your verdict?
9
                JUROR NO. 6: Yes.
10
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 7, is the verdict as 11 12
    presented and read your verdict?
                JUROR NO. 7: Yes.
13
                THE CLERK: Juror No. 8, is the verdict as 14 15
    presented and read your verdict?
                JUROR NO. 8: Yes.
16
17
                THE COURT: All answered yes.
18
                So at this time, unless there are matters 19 that counsel wishes to raise with the Court, the Court 20 would intend to thank and excuse the jury.
21 Anything further from the plaintiffs?
22
                MR. FAY: No, Your Honor.
23
                MR. BERG: Just our thanks to the jury for 24 all their service and their decision.
2.5
                Thank you so much.
```

THE COURT: And the defendants? 1 2 MR. HUMMEL: The same, Your Honor. Thank you for your service. 3 THE COURT: Mr. Miller. 4 5 MR. MILLER: Thank you. THE COURT: So you have fulfilled the duties 6 7 and responsibilities that you promised that you would 8 fulfill when you took your oath as jurors. You listened to all the evidence in the 9 10 case, listened to the arguments of counsel, the 11 instructions of law, and then given the exhibits that 12 were received into evidence and sent into the jury room 13 to deliberate. You have done so, and now returned a verdict. 14 15 So you are now excused from the case. 16 And if you are curious about further jury 17 obligations or whether you will be summoned again this 18 year, or questions of that type, those can be answered 19 for you by someone in the jury assembly room. 20 So you can go to that location. They can 21 answer those questions. On the other hand, you can 22 communicate with them in some other way now if you wish 23 to do so. 24 You have jury badges that do need to be 2.5 returned. So I will just the courtroom deputy can they return those here, or do they need to go to the jury assembly room for that purpose?

            THE CLERK: They can return them to the assembly room.
            THE COURT: All right. It looks like you need to go there anyway.
            Now that you have been excused from the case, you are free to discuss, do research, talk about all of those things that you were precluded from doing while you were serving as a juror in the case.
            But I always caution the jurors. We, meaning the Court, the lawyers, are not permitted to attempt to question you about how you reached the verdict.
            So it is fine for you to speak with the attorneys in the case, if you wish to do so. Fine for you to speak with the Court. But neither the Court nor counsel will ask you: How did you arrive at this verdict?
            That is something that we are not permitted to do, and we will not make that inquiry.
            There are times, though, that we can learn valuable lessons from the jury that help us, certainly helpful to the Court as I impanel other jurors, helpful to counsel to the extent that they have other trials that they may be presenting to jurors.

For example, for me, yesterday I had not thought about the fact that when you already have a jury that's been impaneled but continuing to hear evidence on a Tuesday, Tuesday being that day when we summon new jurors, that there is a very long line downstairs, and some arrangement should probably be made for those who are already serving to enter the courthouse.

So that is something that I will speak with the security about so that we can take care of that. So that was just an unknown to me, even considering that I have been here for many, many years, I just have not encountered that issue.

There are also other things that may have occurred from the moment that you received your summons until this moment. And you may of questions about that. You may have -- seek answers to some procedure that you were concerned about. And if that should be the case, then I am the person that would attempt to answer those questions. Or if I am unable to do so, I would get an answer from whoever is in a best position to answer the questions. And that just helps us with panels to come in the future.

If there were anything -- if there was anything that you noticed while you were with us -- equipment not working or things not going exactly as you would like -- you bring that to my attention. To the extent that I can do something about it, I will.

I don't know if I mentioned, but this is only the second jury that I've tried in this new courthouse. So all of you probably realize that we, for many years, were in a courthouse that was built in the 1930s. Clearly different architecture, not all this modern equipment.

Many of us got accustomed to the old things and are still adjusting to the newness of this, but we are finding that things may not be working quite the way that we expect them to.

So this morning I understand that the coffee machine wasn't working for you. And I'm told that one answer is that everything is electric in the building is based on movement. So when we're not in the room and we're not moving around, then the lights are not on and probably nothing else that needs electricity is working. So I don't know if that's the problem with the coffee machine, but I am prepared to order a traditional coffee machine so that in the future jurors who come won't have that problem. They'll have another alternative.

Our bailiff solved the problem for you, as I understand, and just let those of you who are coffee drinkers or needed a hot drink, he escorted you downstairs so that that could happen. So there are lots of small things that those of us who do this on a daily basis, we get so accustomed to that we may not even notice the things that you notice when you're coming into a courtroom, and it is not the usual activity for you, so you'll notice things that we don't. So I would love to have you bring those to my attention. I am available to speak with any of you who wish to speak with me, but you don't have to stay. You can always write to me. It may be that it's a beautiful day outside, and your interest is just getting outside since you have fulfilled your duties and have been excused. If you wish to speak to the lawyers, I'm sure they would be willing to speak to you too. that's just for you to tell us. So when the bailiff escorts you out, if any of you would like to speak with me or like to speak with the attorneys in the case, let the bailiff know that. You will have to remain, of course, for that purpose. If, on the other hand, you are just ready to say good-bye, we understand that. And if there is communication for me, you can always write and I will respond to you. So we thank you again for your service in the case. I hope you are feeling good about the service that you've rendered in terms of serving as a juror in a case. Without those like yourselves who are willing to assume this responsibility, the system of justice that 8 we have in this country would not work because we could not have jury trials. 9 And not every country has jury trials. are actually proud of our system, and we hope you are as well. And we again thank you for the service that you 13 have rendered. I'm probably forgetting something. the clerk looking up at me. So what is it that I forgot? 16 (COURT AND CLERK CONFER.) 18 THE COURT: Ah, so important. So we ordered 19 lunch for you already. And yesterday I think there was a slight snag for some of you. You made had arrangements, I guess, on Friday to have your lunch 22 yesterday, but then we provided lunch to you yesterday. 23 But lunch has been ordered. So you may 24 return to the room and eat lunch there, if you wish to do so. I suppose you could take it with you if it's in a form that you could do that.

1
2
                So if you wish to have lunch -- I don't know when it will come up, but the clerk can probably tell 3 4 us.
                THE CLERK:
                             Noon.
 5
                THE COURT: Okay. So it will come up at 6
7
           So pretty soon. But some of you may just want to 8 leave. And if that is your desire, you may do that as well.
9 10
                So that's all I have to say at this point.
11
    But just to thank you again for the service that you have rendered.
12
13
                It may be that if you go up to the jury 14 office, return the badges, get information that you may 15 want for future, then by the time you do that and come 16 back down the lunch may even be here. So that's an 17 option as well.
                I also thank the bailiff for the service
18 19 that's been rendered. So here in federal court in civil 20 cases we typically do not have a bailiff in the 21 courtroom except when we reach that point that we're 22 going to have deliberating jurors. And so we thank him 23 for his service as well.
24
                You are now excused.
2.5
                THE CLERK: All rise.
```

(THE JURORS EXIT THE COURTROOM.)

THE COURT: So the jury has been excused.

Whether they have questions or want to speak with any of us, I don't know yet. But the bailiff would tell us that immediately. And if so then I would make the necessary arrangements. We would either bring them back here in the courtroom. Or the last trial that we had, just about a week or so ago, we were able to go into the jury room and speak with them.

But I have to tell you, it's a pretty small room. So not large enough to accommodate all of you.

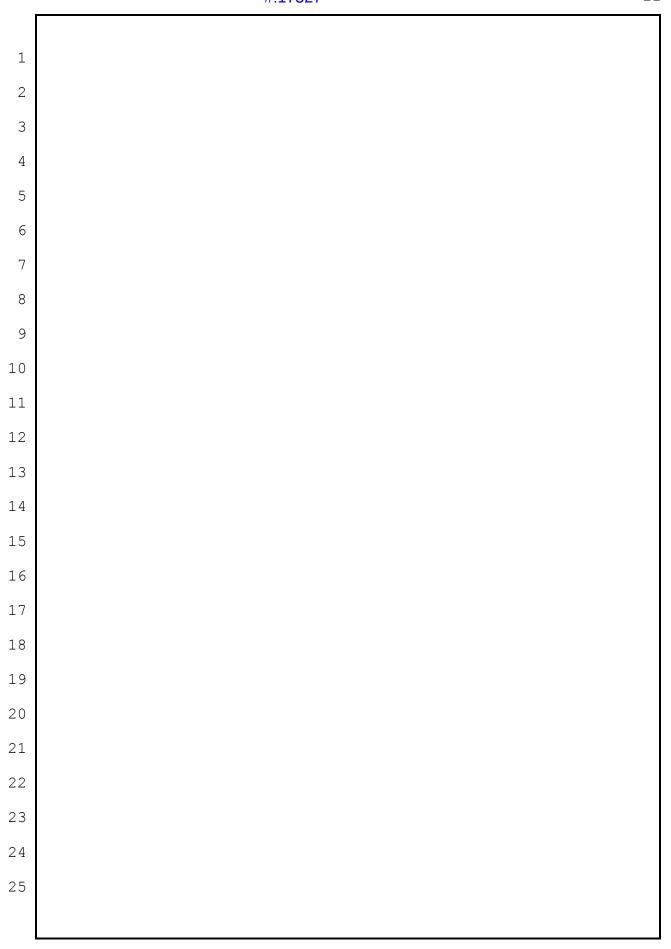

So first we'll see if they want to talk to us. I will make those arrangements. If they don't, then they will leave the building, and hopefully they will have the lunch that the government is providing.

Are there matters that counsel wish to address on the record other than to advise me about the briefing schedule? If you've made a decision on that, you might just want to put that on the record, or you may want to file a document with the Court like in the form of a stipulation that sets forth that information.

MR. FAY: Yes, Your Honor. Why don't we do that. Give me an opportunity to speak with counsel and see if we can't come up with a schedule and then file a stipulation.

```
1
                 THE COURT: And that's acceptable to the 2 defense?
3
                MR. HUMMEL: Of course, Your Honor.
4
                 THE COURT: Good.
5
                 So anything else? If not, then I would ask 6 that you just wait a few minutes here in the courtroom.
7
    The clerk will tell us if the jurors want to leave now 8 or would like to speak with us. And as I said, if they 9 want to speak with Court and counsel, one or the other, 10
    then I will make the necessary arrangements.
11
                MR. FAY:
                          Thank you.
12
                 THE COURT: Thank you. We are in recess 13 now.
